

MICHAEL SHARMAN

I am a versatile leader with a strong belief in collaboration, agility and change across all areas of product development.

Responsible for portfolio roadmap and delivery, I am extremely results-oriented, using data analytics to help drive strategic decisions and measure success.

As a hands-on leader with a strong engineering background, I have extensive experience in building APIs and SaaS (particularly in B2B and B2D) and am passionate about mentoring and leading teams of product managers, developers and designers.
